

United States Interagency Council on Homelessness

Preventing and Ending Homelessness in the United States

Richard S. Cho
Deputy Director

Richard Cho is based in Washington, DC, where he coordinates USICH's Federal policy efforts and the implementation of Opening Doors, the Federal strategic plan to prevent and end homelessness, and leads interagency policy efforts related to ending Veteran and chronic homelessness. Richard joined USICH in February 2013. Prior to that, Richard spent 12 years working at the Corporation for Supportive Housing, most recently as the Director of Innovations, where he advanced supportive housing innovations for vulnerable populations including homeless populations with complex health needs who were high utilizers of crisis health services and/or correctional settings, families with recurring child welfare involvement, and more. Richard has a Masters in City Planning from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is currently pursuing a Doctorate in Public Administration at New York University.

